

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A cage nut assembly is provided having a nut with a body and depending base. The body and base define a bore through the body and base. A cage is disposed about at least a portion of the nut. The cage enables a limited range of movement for the nut within the cage and defines an aperture coaxial with the bore.